2. Placing the mold

Choose a small growing fruit and put the mold on it, so that the fruit completely remains into it. The mold has a little hole at each end, use a wire or a thread to fasten the mold to the plant. Adjust the length of the thread or wire so that the fruit is completely inside the mold.

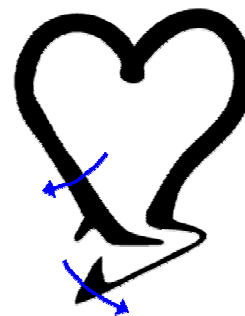

3. Growing the fruit

Once you reach this step, you just have to wait for the fruit to grow. Some fruits like cucumber grow very fast and takes only 5-6 days to fill the mold. Other fruits such as tomatoes will take a few weeks. Since the mold is transparent you can see every day as the fruit grows and fills the mold.

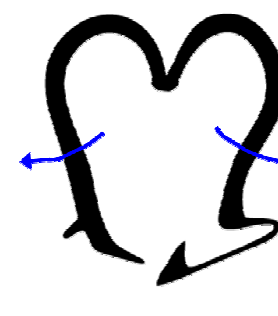

4. Heart and star shaped fruit harvest

Once the fruit has taken the shape of the mold, you can already make your harvest. Remove the mold clamping and cut the stem of the fruit. Release the clouser of the mold starting at one end (FIGURE 1). Slightly open the mold (FIGURE 2) and the fruit will come out easily by the end of the mold (FIGURE 3). Now you can reuse the mold to shape other fruits from your garden.
